METROPOLITAN LEAGUE

City Chatter.

Good afternoon everybody and welcome to Seaford for our home game against Athens. Luckless against all sides this season they are doomed for relegation. However we welcome the Greek club to our ground and hope they enjoy our facilities and our hospitality.

At our ground this afternoon you will notice the fence around the main pitch. This is the first step toward the eventual enclosure of the ground complete with grandstand and dressing rooms. The final additions being expected by 1973.

A major step by our committee and a great step for the soccer fraternity around the Frankston area.

In today's game I cannot see Athens beating us and it seems only a matter of how many goals we get. We need 4 or 5 to catch up with Coburg our major rivals, for promotion. Lets see if we can increase our already good chance to join the elite.

Athens however, may have other ideas, and by their most recent scores, we may be surprised.

Of our challengers, Coburg have to play Triestina and ourselves to complete their programme. Albion have to play Brighton this week, Ajax next week, and their final game is against already Champions, Yallourn. Ajax play the champions this week, Albion of course next week, with their last game I think against Triestina.

This puts us in a very good position as we play bottom side Athens today, Coburg next week, a game we have to at least draw, and lowly Brighton at Seaford in our last game of the season.

At this point last season we were in with a good position for promotion and fluffed it. This year we seem to be in an even better one to get the goal that has been eluding us for the past three seasons. We are at full strength again today after a couple of weeks with key players either injured or suspended. If we have no other upsets then I would say we will be in division one next year. At the next time of going to press I hope I have some good news for all supporters of the royal blues.

The reserve side, having a great season, look as if they have already won the league as nearest rivals Coburg reserves lost last week against Albion. This has been a great effort and credit must go to many, but I think a lot of credit must go to blokes like Mick Bevis, Gerry Pask and Tony Hall, to mention but a few, who have guided our many youngsters in the side through a rewarding season.

Hope you enjoy today's fare; see you in a fortnight for our home game against Brighton.

Report;

Without regulars Benton and Lewis through injury, we were still too good for Moreland. We looked the better side without really getting on top. Four times we had the ball in the Moreland net with the last one the only count when Alby Mathews brought the ball down in the area and banged it home.

Alby had the ball in the net a few moments before only to be ruled offside. Bill Houston headed over twice from close in once for the end product of a delightful free kick from Mathews and Lawson. Apart from a shot that hit the bar and one that Jim Skelley blocked we were never in danger, and Bill Papoutsakis who had a great afternoon was not troubled. Bill took my votes from Tony Hall, Kurt Schroeder, and Albert Mathews.

Report;

Another good victory to our splendid reserve side. Only three points required now from four games, two of which are against bottom side Athens. It seems nothing can stop our lads winning this League. Best: Adams Pask Libberter
