

Enthusiasm was always high, and not all games lost - well done boys.

UNDER 15's

Ken Wheeler and Jack Helmore worked so tirelessly for little reward results wise, yet despite facing at times six foot Under 15 boys, the team always tried hard. The loss of key players from last years squad seriously weakened the team, and could be seen as the main reason for their lack of success.

SENIORS

A rebuilding plan for our first eleven was begun this season, the retirement of some of our experienced players left several holes to be filled and several young players have been moulded into the first team squad. How successful this has been is shown by the fact that we finished fourth on the BAYSIDE LEAGUE ladder, yet at one stage relegation was staring us in the face. The future looks good, as the reserve team strength has also been increased during the season.

SKYE HIGH

The future of our juniors has always been uppermost in the committees minds, and this year we have had a lot of support from several Frankston councillors, Mr. P. Love deserves special mention, although we can't forget the other East Ward Councillors, today we offer a special welcome to them.

Finally, we hope to see you all back next season.

That was the year that was.

Another long hard season has come to an end, and although some of our boys will continue to play fixtures into early October, our fifth year at SKYE Reserve is completed. On reflection, it could be said that it has been the season to see the club come of age - the winning of the first club pennant.

The following is a brief summary of our teams :

UNDER 7's

The honours here must go to Lou Cibura's squad, although beaten in the SKYE Carnival, the boys have gone through the season virtually unbeaten.

The Wolves, coached by Alan Parrott, have shown continued improvement throughout the season, we expect to see a turnaround in results next year.

UNDER 8's

Peter Lukey and Paul Mathews have worked hard with their teams, encouragement whether winning or losing has always been their aim. Next year the boys graduate to eleven a side, and according to both managers, the future looks good.

UNDER 9's

Rod Campbell has developed a fine young side, showing all the signs that they can develop into a future pennant winning team. Lyle Spyře has only just taken over our other team, yet in those few short weeks, moral has lifted and the boys results have improved dramatically.

UNDER 10's

Two very experienced coaches look after these sides. Graham Baulk and Harry Chalkitis - we can only say that both teams have some exciting players, and next season could be either teams year.

Graham's team took part in the U10 SEAFORD carnival, and reached the final - going down to FAWKNER, great effort boys.

UNDER 11's

Perhaps we could call this age group the base of the club, as a lot of the boys started in our first season in the Soccer Federation.

In those four years, the JETS, GUNNERS and latterly the HAMMERS have shown how Australian boys can play soccer.

This season the JETS won group A of the Peninsula league under coach Alan Parrott and manager Graham Sambell. They also, as many of you will know, lost in the last eight of the Victorian U11 Cup after a great struggle. Not to be outdone, Keith Graingers' GUNNERS led Group for practically all the season, only to slip at the last hurdles, nevertheless, they finished second.

The HAMMERS continue to improve, and this year was the best effort. Mike Oram must be pleased with all the boys.

UNDER 12's

For sheer enthusiasm, this team must take the cake. Mike and Elaine and company, if they will accept that title, have worked wonders with the side.

Last year the boys were at the bottom of the ladder, but with sheer hard work, find themselves in the top four this season. Congratulations to all parents and boys.

UNDER 14's

The loss of our U13's caused many of these boys to play a year up, the going was tough, yet under Nicky Cockcroft, the boys moral never dropped.
